I am a presence seeker.

I seek the presence of Jesus.

Only He can satisfy me.

There's no one like Jesus.

Nothing else is as beautiful as His face.

I know the Bible says there was nothing about His appearance to make people desire Him...
but I don't understand that.

Because when I see His face, I desire nothing else.

Jesus is everything to me.

He was my first love, and He'll be my last.

He's my peace in a restless world.
His Spirit comforts me when no one else can.

Jesus makes everything better.

I live for His presence.

I am a presence seeker.

(Are you?)

I used to seek God's hand.
I asked Him to do a lot of things for me.

I didn't understand that His presence is better than any of those things.

Then somewhere along the way, I started to pray:

“Lord, help me to seek Your face, and not just Your hand.”

And somewhere along the way, He answered that prayer.

I don't know how or when I changed.
It must have been a process.

All I know is that now...

His presence is what I long for.

It's a paradox.

I have found Him, and yet I still seek Him.

I must seek Him.

I was born to seek Him.

I am a presence seeker, and I cannot be anything else.

Can you identify?

So what is a presence seeker?

A presence seeker finds fulfillment in His presence...

(and none outside it).

A presence seeker sees Jesus

in Scripture,

in music,

in art,

in travel.

He learns by experience that the Holy Spirit is his constant companion.

A presence seeker understands more with each passing year...

(but is himself understood by few).

A presence seeker feels strangely foreign in this world.

This world is not her home.

Heaven is her home...

and she feels the tug.

She's caught between two worlds.

A presence seeker

feels like he was born outside his time.

But no other era he can imagine feels quite right either...

God has placed eternity in his heart.

The presence seeker knows the secret of eternal youth.

There is no time in the presence of God.

Minutes ...

turn to hours ...

that feel like only seconds.

A lifetime in the presence of God seems like only a moment.

The presence seeker is a beloved son of Father God...

(even if he doesn't know it yet).

The presence seeker hears the Lord calling early in the morning...

and she slips away to meet Him.

(She loves to sleep, but she loves the Lover of her soul more.)

(And her Lord always rewards her.)

The presence seeker knows that nothing could be ok

without Jesus.

But with Jesus...

all things become new.

The presence seeker sees with Spirit eyes.

No one else agrees with her...
except other presence seekers.

The presence seeker begins to pray

with many burdens,

but finishes with none.

The presence seeker
is moved to tears by the sweetness of God's Word.

He cries to God from the depths of his spirit:

“Your words are sweeter than honey!”

A presence seeker

could never be satisfied with anything less than the unveiled glory of God.

Are you a presence seeker?

I am. I've been ruined for this world.

I'm wasted for His presence.

If you've read this far, I believe you're a presence seeker too.

So...

Would you adopt the Presence Seeker's Creed with me?

The Presence Seeker's Creed

I will seek the presence of God.

I will give my whole life to this one thing.

I acknowledge my dependence upon the Holy Spirit. I will ask for His help every day.

I will rise early and stay up late if I need to.

I will seek Him, and when I find Him, I will continue to seek only Him.

I will guard His presence with everything in me.

I will cleanse my life of things that distract me from Him.

I will love Him, and I will let Him love me even more.

I will abide in my Father's love.

I will seek Him in Scripture. I will listen carefully to His Word, and obey it.

My God will be a Father to me, and I will be His beloved son.

I will delight in Him and enjoy Him.

I will learn to distinguish His voice from every other voice.

I will converse with Him in my heart.

I will give Him first place in my life. I will seek His kingdom and His character.

I will seek His presence more than any other thing.

I am a presence seeker.

About the Author

Jamie Rohrbaugh is a presence seeker.

She's also a Sunday School teacher, musician, intercessor, and unlikely worship leader.

Her passion is to teach and equip people to live continually in the presence of God, and to function fully in their gifts.

Jamie lives in Chattanooga, Tennessee, with her husband, Bruce, and their ornery cat, Moses. She blogs at FromHisPresence.com about how to live ordinary life in God's manifest presence.
